Prospective Grads Face Last Tussle With Finals

Six Days on 'Exam Griddle' Open at SIU

Some 1,225 seniors today begin taking final examinations for what many of them hopefully believe will be the last time.

Four two-hour tests have been scheduled for today and Friday, three on Saturday, four again on Monday and Tuesday and two on Wednesday.

Seniors will have a two-day break before commencement exercises on June 12 in McAndrew Stadium. Anthropologist Margaret Mead will be the speaker.

In all, some 1,600 persons are expected to receive degrees at commencement, including VTI students, masters degrees candidates and 16 who will receive doctor of philosophy degrees.

No honorary degrees will be awarded at the June commencement. However, 14 long-time faculty members will be honored for their service to Southern.

And a special distinguished service award will be presented to John Allen, Illinois historian, newspaper columnist and former director of the SIU Museum. President Delyte W. Morris will make the presentation to Allen on behalf of the Board of Trustees.

4 Accident Victims Show Improvement, One Out of Hospital

The condition of Joseph G. Nappi, injured Tuesday in a car smashup, was described as improved Wednesday.

The report was from Doctors Hospital in Carbondale, where Nappi is a patient. He was injured in the smashup in which William R. Wegener, another SIU student, lost his life.

Reports were also compiled on the conditions of three other SIU students who were injured in a collision last week in which a young man from Marion, Ill., was killed.

The attending physician said Lynn Taylor, 22, is in satisfactory condition in Herrin Hospital. She has had preliminary dental surgery.

Jo Ann Degler, 21, is in good condition, her physician said, and she will probably be released Saturday.

Mike Roberts, 20, was discharged Sunday. The fourth student injured in the collision was Dale Wasson, 22, but no report was available on his condition.

Students who plan to attend summer school will have to start reporting back to classes the evening of June 15.

With the exception of certain special courses and workshops, the summer term will be extended to Aug. 29, making SIU one of the first major universities in the nation to go to a full year-round schedule of classes.

Some 5,636 students were enrolled in classes on the Carbondale campus last summer. SIU officials decline to predict the enrollment this summer. However, it is expected to go over last summer's figure.

4 Students Picked For Leadership Lab

Four SIU students have been selected to attend a National Training Laboratory in Bethel, Maine, this summer.

They are Judy Pope, Pat Micken, Pam Newberry and John Huck. Larry McDonald and Russ Blaze were named alternates.

The delegates were approved by the Student Council at its special meeting Monday night. They were chosen by Dick Moore, student body president.

The annual leadership laboratory is sponsored by the National Education Association for leaders from campuses across the United States. It will be held June 14 to 26.

This year's program will emphasize human relations training, according to Micken, president-elect of the student body.

Beauty Contest Seeks SIU Coeds

SIU coeds have been invited to participate in a Johnston City beauty pageant.

The invitation was submitted to the Student Affairs Office.

The pageant is scheduled for July 4, and will be a preliminary to the Miss Illinois beauty contest, according to Donald Lamb of Johnston City.

Lamb told the Student Affairs Office the winner of the Johnston City contest will be sent to the state contest.

He is accepting entries at YU 3-2301.

'My Fair Lady' Cast Selected

Robert Meyer and Mary Jo Smith have been given the leading roles in "My Fair Lady," the musical to be presented by the SIU Summer Music Theater.

Meyer, of Springfield, will play the role of Professor Henry Higgins, a proper British gentleman who turns gutter snipe Eliza Doolittle into a lady. Miss Smith, of Mt. Vernon, will play Eliza.

The musical, directed by William Taylor, associate professor of music, will be presented in Shryock Auditorium July 31, Aug. 1 and 2.

Cast in major roles are David Davidson as Alfred P. Doolittle, William McHughes as Colonel Pickering, Jerry Dawe as Freddy Eynsfield-Hill, Lynn Leonard as Mrs. Pearce, Mary Davidson as Mrs. Higgins and Sarah Moore as Mrs. Eynsford-Hill.

Supporting players include: Karen Mallams, Kathleen Breland, Brenda Bostain, Nanette Cox, Frozeila Crosslin, Katherine Kimmel, Betty Yehling, Charlene Zoeckler and Thomas Bennett.

Also, Jan Ross, Gloria Smith, Jo Knight, Lawrence Braniff, Richard Boyd, Richard O'Neal, Janice Bennett, David Smith, Lawrence Lubway and William Lehmann.

Also Cheryl Biscontin, Albert Hapke, Janice Paternal, Ralph Chris Jones, Daniel Saathoff, Alta McClarren, Ginger Macchi, Nona Mundy, Deanna Whitney and Jeana Bray.

Morris to Receive Graduating Seniors

President and Mrs. Delyte W. Morris have scheduled a reception for June and August graduates at 4 p.m. June 12 at the president's home.

Invitations were sent to graduating seniors and to the faculty. Those who were inadvertently not sent invitations should call the President's Office.

Shorts Story Splits Students: Should Staff Show Shanks?

by Fred Beyer

It's a very lucky thing that spring quarter is the final quarter of the normal academic year. In this most halloved of all quarters—with high temperatures, low grades, and high students—students tend to run out of money.

Funds earned during the summer have all been spent and students are trying to economize. The most apparent way in which students economize is in their dress.

In the name of "coolness," socks, undershirts and, in some cases, underwear is dispensed with and the popular uniform seems to be a pair of white levis and a pair of tennis shoes so dirty as to be indiscernible from the ground on which they tread.

Pity the poor teacher who has to stand, fully clothed and sweltering, in front of a class full of such "coolly" clad students.

Should teachers be allowed to wear shorts too? This was a question put to several students and faculty members.

The answers fell into either the "yes" of "no" class, with only an occasional qualification of the answer.

For the sake of brevity, the group that would allow teachers to profess their knowledge with their bare legs out in the open shall be referred to as the "outies" and those favoring clad legs as the "inies."

The "inie" group was primarily concerned with a teacher's loss of respect while wearing shorts. However, Ruth Ann Scott, a senior, said, "As far as I'm concerned, it's all right if they feel comfortable."

Louise Charlson, a senior, and definitely an "inie" says, "I'm only interested in the subject matter, not what they wear."

On the faculty side, Jean Hutchinson, a graduate assistant in English, said "I don't think it matters a great deal what a professor wears...students never go to class to see what an instructor is wearing."

However, Pat Brueckner, a freshman, indicated she thinks it's important what an instructor wears when she said, "I've got a speech teacher and he's cute and he's young and he could wear shorts, but fat old men shouldn't."

Sue Caldwell, who will graduate this month and become a teacher herself, responded to the question with laughter. When she regained her composure, she said firmly, "No, I don't." When asked why she didn't think teachers should wear shorts, Miss Caldwell said not so firmly, "Oh, I guess they could."

Elaine Loomer, an "outie," said she didn't think she would lose any respect for her teach-

Coach of Year Selected

'64 All-Star Sports Team Named by Daily Egyptian

The Daily Egyptian's 1964 All-Star Sports Team is announced today.

Pictures of the athletes who made the team appear on Pages 4 and 5. And a complete story with biographical material on each player appears on Page 8.

The team was selected by Daily Egyptian sports writers Alan Goldfarb, Rich LaSusa and Bob Reincke.

The selections, which include one athlete from all nine SIU varsity sports plus the Most Valuable Athlete and the Coach of the Year, were based on individual performances and the athletes' value to their team.

The Daily Egyptian will pick an all-sports team annually and will award certificates to those honored.

The most valuable athletes were picked from the football, basketball, gymnastics, wrestling, swimming, track, baseball, tennis, and golf teams.

The balloting was closest in the voting for the most valuable on the basketball, wrestling, swimming and baseball teams.

Replaces Miss Southern

Linda Laswell to Enter Miss Illinois Contest

A girl who had been overjoyed to be named second runner-up in the Miss Southern contest, has found herself unbelievably excited with plans for entering the Miss Illinois contest.

Linda Laswell earned the right to participate in the Miss Illinois contest when Joan Yale and Laura Brown declined the offer because of previous commitments this summer. They are Miss Southern and the first runner-up, respectively.

Miss Laswell is a 20-year-old sophomore from Henderson, Ky., majoring in Home Economics Merchandising. She is a member of Angel Flight and of Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority.

She said she couldn't believe it, and didn't really get excited about the Miss Illinois contest until she called St. Louis to see if she could get time off from her job on the college board of Famous and Barr Department Stores.

"When they said I could, I really got excited," she said.

She said she is looking forward to the contest and that her family is pretty excited about the whole thing, too.

She was sponsored for the Miss Southern contest by Angel Flight. She said she felt honored to be chosen by them for the contest, but she didn't really feel that she would win.

She won the talent trophy in the Miss Southern contest for her humorous pantomime of an Indian. She plans to use this same act for the Miss Illinois contest in Aurora on July 29.

ers if they wore shorts and added, "I think they should be comfortable just like the students. . . . I mean they're not gods."

Barry Kaufman, a graduate student and former teacher at Chicago's famous Marshall High School, states, "assuming the maximum amount of comfort, etc., etc., then the teachers have a right to look like an ass just like the students."

Dona Beard, a senior "outie," came up with, "I don't think they oughta, they all have hairy knees."

Miss Beard didn't explain why she thought they have "hairy knees."

Commencement Ceremony

McKendree College Plans Honors for Grinnell, Allen

Two representatives of SIU will be among five distinguished guests at the McKendree College commencement at Lebanon Sunday to receive honorary degrees.

John E. Grinnell, vice president for operations, will deliver the commencement address and receive the hood and honorary degree of "doctor of literature" from Max Allen, president of McKendree.

Friday, Dr. and Mrs. Grinnell will be guests at a dinner honoring his retirement as vice president. A native of North Dakota, Grinnell is a member of the 200-year-old British Royal Society of Arts. He came to Southern nine years ago from Indiana State Teachers College.

The degree, doctor of laws, will be conferred upon John W. Allen, noted Southern Illinois historian and folk lore specialist. He is a retired

Trustees Switch Meeting to July 1

The Board of Trustees will hold its June meeting July 1 in Chicago.

General Counsel John Rendleman had suggested the board change its meeting date from June 26 to June 30 so the board could consider bids for the sale of bonds, scheduled to be opened around the 26th.

Members of the board could not meet June 30, so July 1 was picked.

member of the SIU faculty and served as acting director of the University Museum.

He is also the author of a weekly newspaper column, "It Happened in Southern Illinois," and of a book, "Legends and Lore of Southern Illinois."

He was also honored last week when Southern's board of trustees named a new residence hall in his honor and will again participate in academic ceremonies June 12 to receive SIU's "Service to Southern" award at commencement.

Bianchi Asked To Join State Advisory Group

Rino Bianchi, assistant to the vice president for operations and expert on space utilization, has been named by the State Board of Higher Education to serve on its Physical Facilities Advisory Committee.

The letter of appointment from Lyman Glenn, associate director, said Bianchi was one of three members representing Illinois public institutions on the committee. The committee advises on criteria for space use and building utilization, and aids in determining priorities of projects submitted for consideration.

The Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963 will provide $11,297,614 to assist public and private institutions of higher learning in Illinois in the construction of new building. In the case of junior colleges, the federal government will provide up to 40 percent of the costs of a new building.

Bianchi, author of Southern's annual Space Studies report since 1959, is a native of Centerville, Ia.

Student Fined $250 Faces Suspension

The Office of Student Affairs Wednesday recommended suspension for a freshman who was fined $250 plus costs in Circuit Court in Murphysboro on a charge of fraudulent alteration of a driver's license.

The suspension of Jeffrey M. Harris, 18, of Evanston would be effective June 15 through the summer term. He would be eligible for re-entry next fall.

The student affairs office said that Harris altered the date on his driver's license to make it appear that he was of age.

Two Students Get Probation Till '65

The Office of Student Affairs Wednesday placed two students on disciplinary probation through next winter term, on the recommendation of the off-campus judicial board.

The two, identified by the office only as an 18-year-old freshman from Oaklawn and a 19-year-old sophomore from Glenview, were told they would be suspended if, during the probation period, they were involved in behavioral problems or if their grade point average dropped below 3.0.

The Student Affairs Office said the two, both male students, had been called before the judicial board repeatedly.

Applications Asked For Oxford Study

Persons interested in applying for 1965 Rhodes Scholarships for study at Oxford University in England can obtain information from G. C. Wiegand of the SIU department of economics, campus representative of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust.

Wiegand, who said elections to the 32 scholarships assigned to the United States will be held this December, emphasized that applications should be filed at an early date.

Applicants must be male U.S. citizens between 18 and 24 years of age as of Oct. 1, 1964, have at least junior standing, and be endorsed by their university or college. The applicant must be single. The scholarship is forfeited if the scholar marries during his first or second year at Oxford.

Like Money in the Bank

Fifth in a Series

A city manager in Carbon-dale would be like money in the bank.

This money-saving quality, a typical characteristic of the city manager plan, has been an asset to nearly every community which has tried the system.

Consider Kansas City, Mo., for example. It had a staggering $22 million debt before residents voted for the city manager plan. Six years later, the debts were paid in full and the city treasury showed a $4 million surplus.

How does the city manager save money? In a variety of ways.

The chief administrator often trims useless municipal jobs. Workers who are re-trained are usually more secure than ever before. This is due to the fact that some city employees were appointed as political favors, not because they were particularly capable.

The city manager carefully investigates the city's loans and debts for evidences of waste and slipshod methods of handling funds.

He is the city's sole purchasing agent. Functioning for all the city's departments, the city manager can fill requests more quickly and find the lowest price for items needed by all departments.

Under this same single purchasing agent idea, fewer checks are written for the same goods, simplifying both bookkeeping and filing.

The list could go on and on.

The popular notion is that a public relations man is an ex-newspaperman who has sold his soul for a mess of money which he earns by buying drinks at press conventions for newspapermen who haven't yet found a market for their souls.

--Lapeer (Mich.) County Press

But perhaps the main reason the city manager saves the community money is that he knows what he is doing.

With previous training and a sound knowledge of the operation of civic affairs, the city manager can handle purchases and expenditures wisely.

Of course the drawback to the system, some critics note, is the city manager's salary. Still, although the average salary is over $9,000 the city manager usually saves double that amount for the community. Another asset is the time he saves elected officials.

A city manager is like money in the bank. And who doesn't like money?

Next: "Just a Man"

IRVING DILLIARD

Still a Government of Laws

One thing that cannot be said too often is that ours is a government of laws and not of men. This does not mean that men are unimportant. It means that we are under a system of laws, not under the whims of human beings.

Three pieces of news drive this fact home and clinch it tight. First, the Supreme court's decision in the congressional redistricting case from Georgia. Second, decision of the Federal Court of Appeals in New Orleans against the conviction of a newspaper reporter for going to Cuba and coming home without a passport. Third, appointment by the Warren commission of an eminent member of the bar to protect the interests of the late Lee Harvey Oswald in the federal investigation of President Kennedy's assassination.

What Provoked Test Case

Following logical and cautiously its decisions in the Tennessee legislative redistricting case of 1962 and its Georgia county unit rotten borough case last year, the Supreme court has now taken the side of the disadvantaged voter in congressional districts generally.

Few states approximate the ideal of equality of representation in seats in the national House in Washington. Georgia's rural ninth district has only 272,000 residents; urban Atlanta's fifth 823,000. Thus the Atlanta voter has only a third the representation of his country cousin. This lopsidedness provoked the test case.

Irving Dilliard

Every state, including Illinois, Wisconsin, and Pennsylvania, has wide variations. These disparities are not in accord with the United States Constitution. For as Justice Black said for the 7 to 2 majority, "equal representation" must truly mean "equal representation as nearly as practicable."

The passport case was that of William Worthy, correspondent for the Afro-American of Baltimore, who for nearly 10 years has been going to places like communist China, Hungary, and Cuba to report on conditions in those countries. This practice has brought him into conflict with state department policies that use the passport as a weapon in the cold war, not as a means to facilitate travel.

Even the Dead Protected

In Worthy's Cuba case three Court of Appeals judges—Jones, Tuttle, and Bell, all southerners—declared the law involved unconstitutional. They held that "the government cannot say to its citizen, standing beyond its border, that his reentry into the land of his allegiance is a criminal offense." This ruling overturns a conviction for a year against this enterprising reporter who has risked imprisonment to report news from communist countries for his paper's readers.

Altho Oswald is dead, there are interests that should be protected in his case and it is to the credit of the Warren commission that it has appointed Walter E. Craig of Phoenix, president of the American Bar association, to guard those interests. It is also a credit to Mr. Craig that he has this difficult, unpleasant assignment. Only as all persons' rights are protected, even rights of the dead, do we have a system of justice under law.

'No Pay Till You Pay' Policy Disconcerts Student Worker

Once again I stood in line for my student wages and was told that my check was being held at "Window IV." Once again I stood in line at "Window IV" and was told that I could not receive my wages until I paid a library fine. And once again I asked for particulars about the fine and, you guessed it, once again I was directed to the library.

After I paid my fine, after returning from the library and again standing in a "Window IV" line, my due wages were received. I apologized to the very patient woman who suffers from the initial reactions of students in similar situations. She is not to blame... but someone is!

Someone is to blame for this prejudiced system, a system that separates student workers from nonworkers, a system that, in effect, garnishes wages without a court order.

I believe the University has a right to withhold a student's academic credits for debts incurred with the University, but I do not believe it has the right to withhold wages due, wages issued by the State of Illinois.

I would desire an opinion by the University legal staff on this system.

John S. Bis

Student workers agree to all policies of the student work program when they are placed in a campus position, says Frank Adams, student work program director. One of these policies is that a student worker's check can be held up until he pays campus bills.

"We think student workers should be reliable and pay their bills anyway," Adams says.

In addition, a student's diploma can be withheld until he clears campus bills, according to a spokesman for the Registrar's Office. During the last week before graduation he must clear a checklist to make sure he has no bills listed at the bursar's, the library, Housing Office or Textbook Service.

Rusk, McNamara Tell Johnson About Asian Policy Proposals

WASHINGTON -- Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned Wednesday from a Honolulu conference with "a number of recommendations" for President Johnson on new action to strengthen Southeast Asia against Communist pressures.

Landing at Andrews Air Force Base, Rusk told newsmen "We brought back a number of recommendations, as we usually do from these meetings."

He said "the commitment of the American nation, its people and its government," to protect Southeast Asia against Red aggression "are well-known."

Then he added: "The problem is to make sure the other side fully understands that we mean what we say."

Rusk and McNamara were scheduled to see Johnson late in the day after the President's return from a speaking trip to New England.

Aides traveling with Rusk and McNamara said much of the planning in the two-day

Honolulu strategy conference, which ended Tuesday night, was concerned with ways of strengthening the anti-Communist war effort in South Viet Nam and supporting more effectively the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Korean Students Battle Police

SEOUL, South Korea--About 20,000 students and citizens demanding that President Chung Hee Park resign fought a bloody battle with police Wednesday and on into the night. His shaken regime proclaimed martial law.

Street fighting swirled around the capital and on the approaches to the presidential palace in a day of wild disorder. Outbreaks were reported in other South Korean cities.

The decree putting the nation under martial law was announced after Park, who came to power four years ago on the heels of another student uprising, called the National Security Council into urgent session.

Goldwater Gets 50.9 Per Cent In Narrow California Victory

SAN FRANCISCO -- Sen. Barry Goldwater jumped into the lead for the GOP presidential nomination Wednesday with a California primary victory.

Confounding the pollsters who had made him the underdog, the Arizona senator came from behind in the vote count to nose out New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the state's 86 Republican presidential nominating votes.

Goldwater's victory had been forecast by the electronic projections of the television networks. But it took all-night tabulations of the actual votes to establish him firmly as the winner.

Rockefeller carried most of the California counties in a liberal vs. conservative battle.

Southern California returns, chiefly from Los Angeles, gave Goldwater his first victory in a major contested primary after losses in New Hampshire and Oregon. This put him near the 655 delegate votes required for the nomination.

The Associated Press tabulation of returns from 32,062 of the state's 32,861 precincts showed Goldwater 1,051,539, Rockefeller 1,009,817.

Goldwater was getting 50.9 per cent of the vote. Most of the network projections had ranged around 51 per cent, a figure on which CBS settled after having predicted generally that he would win with 53 per cent.

House OKs Highway Aid

WASHINGTON -- A $2.35 billion, two-year program of federal highway aid won unanimous House approval.

Congress Likened To a Sports Car

BATON ROUGE, La.--Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., in a speech at Louisiana State University said Congress is like a sports car, and explained: "It costs a lot of money and makes a lot of noise but it can't pass anything."

Oblivious to a brief bomb scare, Goldwater took a transcontinental nap as he flew from Los Angeles to Washington Wednesday. Police hustled a passenger off Goldwater's jet airliner in Los Angeles and made him unpack a satchel. When no bombs or guns were found in it, airline officials let him reboard. In high good humor, Goldwater joked with reporters on his arrival in Washington.

Alluding to the long dispute between Arizona and California over the waters of the Colorado River, the Arizona senator cracked: "I have a different attitude toward Californians now. They can have all the water we have."

Goldwater previously had called his California victory a "giant step" toward the presidential nomination.

Mitchell 'Most Valuable'

Top Athletes of SIU Selected by Writers

Four seniors, three juniors and two sophomores make up the Daily Egyptian's 1963-64 All-Sports team selected by the Daily Egyptian sports staff.

All nine SIU varsity athletic teams were honored, with the NCAA champion gymnasts walking away with two honors. Rusty Mitchell was chosen as the Most Valuable Athlete of the year and his coach, Bill Meade, was honored as the Coach of the Year.

In the voting for Most Valuable Athlete, George Woods, the number one NCAA shotputter, and Jim Hart, the only sophomore on the "dream team" and a quarterback on the football team, were given honorable mention.

The Egyptian sports staff members, Alan Goldfarb, Rich LaSusa and Bob Reincke made the selections.

The closest balloting came in basketball, swimming, wrestling and baseball. Joe Ramsey nosed out Paul Henry in basketball, Jack Schiltz edged Thom McAneney in swimming, Larry Kristoff nipped Don Millard and Terry Finn for wrestling honors, and Gene Vincent just did get by Johnny Hotz and Kent Collins for baseball honors.

The all-sports team for 1963-64:

COACH OF THE YEAR--BILL MEADE: Meade's gymnasts went undefeated for the third straight year in dual meet competition and finally won the NCAA championship after finishing in the runner-up spot three years in a row. Meade has a 59-22 record since 1956.

MOST VALUABLE ATHLETE--RUSTY MITCHELL: Rusty led his teammates to the NCAA championships by taking titles in the tumbling and free exercise events. Mitchell is the best bet to represent Southern in the October Olympics. Rusty is a senior and co-captained SIU this year. He is considered one of the finest collegiate gymnasts in the country.

FOOTBALL--JIM HART: Hart, sophomore, quarterbacked the Salukis in their first year of the pro-type offense. Hart threw for 14 touchdowns and 1,041 yards. He completed 72 passes in 152 attempts.

BASKETBALL--JOE RAMSEY: Ramsey co-captained the Salukis to the finals of the NCAA Great Lakes Regionals and a 20-10 record. In his junior year Ramsey led the team in scoring with 392 points for a 16.3 per game average.

SWIMMING--JACK SCHILTZ: Schiltz was a standout senior on Southern's successful swimming team this year. Considered to be one of the best medley men in SIU history, the SIU captain set a school record of 2:02.6 in the 200-yard individual medley.

WRESTLING--LARRY KRISTOFF: Larry was one of the key men on the Saluki wrestling squad. The burly 235-pound heavyweight has been the stalwart of SIU's mat squad and is currently defending AAU heavyweight champ. Kristoff is trying out for the Tokyo Olympics. Kristoff is a senior.

TRACK--GEORGE WOODS: Woods, who has been throwing the shot 60 feet or better all year, became the number one contender for the NCAA shot put championship when he set an SIU record of 61 feet, 2 inches. The distance has been the longest by an NCAA eligible this year. Woods is only a junior.

BASEBALL--GENE VINCENT: Vincent led the Salukis to the NCAA small-college regional and a 19-1 regular season record with a perfect 10-0 pitching late. He has less than a 1.00 earned run average. Gene is a sophomore.

TENNIS--BOB SPRENGEL-MEYER: Bob has not lost a singles match in 34 straight outings. He has compiled the same individual 16-0 record that the Saluki tennis team has compiled this year.

GOLF--GENE CARELLO: He is a senior who was "Mr. Dependable" on Southern's golf team this year. He led the Salukis with a 13-3 dual-match record while averaging a 74 for the year. Carello expects to turn pro soon.

CHARLES RAHE

Publication Frat Elects New Officers

Charles Rahe has been elected president of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary fraternity for people in student publications.

Others officers elected at a Sunday meeting were Bobbie Sturm, vice president; and Becky Storey, secretary.

Rahe is a junior majoring in economics. He recently was named editor of the 1965 Obelisk. He has been on the yearbook staff for three years, two of those as associate editor.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harves Rahe, 204 Pine Lane, Carbondale.

Southern Video Gets Bid

City Council Picks Company To Construct TV Tower

The Carbondale City Council, at its regular Tuesday night meeting, authorized the drawing up of a franchise for the services of the Southern Video Corporation, Harrisburg, Ill.

Southern Video Corporation and three other companies submitted their proposals for construction of a community reception television tower at the council's May 26 meeting.

According to commissioner William Eaton, Southern Video's proposal "seemed to be more what the council wants." He noted that other proposals were a little better but the council preferred the most local company.

Where possible, the franchise will limit the service to existing utility poles. Also, the franchise will be void if the service is not nearly complete in one year or the service is inactive for three years. The franchise will be nontransferable.

In later council discussion of the matter, Paul McRoy of WCIL radio said he regretted that the council could not have some discussion on the matter before passage.

McRoy said he believed that the issue had never been discussed before and there was never any public notice for the submission of bids.

Mayor D. Blaney Miller pointed out that the matter had been discussed twice in the council sessions and told McRoy "I've been in the construction game for a long time and you can't win 'em all."

McRoy walked out of the meeting at this point.

In other council business, the police report for May was read, revealing that 2,385 parking tickets had been written in that month.

Bids were opened for tires on a fire truck, tires for the fire chief's car, sidewalk repair, and a new police car. These bids were given to commissioner Ramsey for his consideration.

Laurance Martin, superintendent of Carbondale Elementary School District 95, resigned from the planning commission and recommended that Mary Swindell take his place.

William Huffman resigned as chairman of the Board of Appeals and Miller appointed Keith Corson to this position.

Siebel OK'd for Game Today In NCAA Baseball Regional

Gene Vincent will be on the mound and John Siebel will be in centerfield when Southern's baseball team opens first-round action in the Mideast NCAA college-division regional against Youngstown this morning at Jackson, Tenn.

Vincent, boasting a perfect 10-0 record during regular season play, has been coach Abe Martin's most dependable starter in the latter part of the year as the Salukis extended their record to 19-1.

Siebel, who bruised his hand last Saturday against St. Louis, sat out Monday's practice but was back in action Tuesday. Monty Knight will be in centerfield if the hand gives Siebel any trouble.

Vincent, a strong-armed righthander, who has been drafted by the Champaign-Urbana entry in the Central Illinois Collegiate Summer Baseball League, has given up just one earned run and only 10 hits while striking out 35 batters in his last 35 innings of work.

Win or lose today Martin nominated another righthander, Johnny Hotz, to start Southern's second game Friday.

If the Salukis win today's opener against the 17-1 Penguins, they will meet the Mt. Union-Union winner for the championship Friday afternoon. A loss today would put the Salukis in the Friday morning game for third place against the Mt. Union-Union loser.

Well satisfied with a pair of weekend victories over Missouri Valley Conference champs St. Louis, Martin is not planning to alter either his lineup or batting order for this week's tournament.

Second-baseman Gib Snyder who is hitting .245, will lead off followed by Siebel (.330); leftfielder Kent Collins (.371); first baseman Jim Long (.299); third baseman Bob Bernstein (.345); catcher Mike Pratte (.267); rightfielder Al Peludat (.302); and shortstop Denny Walter (.300).
